Scholarship Is Awarded

Word was received this week from the Carnation Company that Jerry Reynolds, North high school senior, had been awarded the Elbridge A. Stewart college scholarship presented to outstanding high school students annually.

Jerry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Reynolds, 22302 Redbeam Ave., participated in the recent North High Science Fair and is a Herald correspondent covering Saxon sports activities.

Jerry Reynolds plans to use the Carnation scholarship at the University of California at Berkeley next fall and said he hoped to receive scholastic grades high enough to qualify him for future foundation awards. He will major in architecture.

Deadline for Scholarship Is April 30

Last chance to enter the $1000, full-year tuition pharmacy scholarship contest is April 30, according to Geraldine C. Vidovich, local pharmacist and vice-president of the USC Pharmacy School Alumni Assn, sponsors of the event.

A full year tuition to SC School of Pharmacy will be awarded to a high school senior for the best original essay on "Why I Want to Become a Pharmacist".

Miss Vidovich, staff member of Torrance Pharmacy, states that this is one of the highest scholarship awards for pharmacy education in the nation. In addition, chances for winning are excellent, since competition is limited to Southern California high school seniors.
